Sanford's Ginger

With Owl Trade-Mark on the Wrapper.

Ginger brands claiming to be "the same," or "as good as Sanford's," or "cheaper," or "our own make," endeavor to mislead the purchaser at every hand. Based on intrinsic worth, Sanford's GINGER is the best in the world, and no other maker can to-day give so much in value for so little money, because its sale is greater than that of all other ginger combined.

It is composed of imported ginger, choice aromatic, and the best of medicinal French brandy, the most costly materials ever before used in the composition of "ginger." And yet so great is the quantity consumed that the cost is reduced to the minimum. Once introduced into the household it can never be dispensed with. It is the best advertisement. Thousands of people are daily using "Sanford's GINGER"; it is the best of all gingers.

A TRIPLE COLLISION

Disastrous Wreck on the Pennsylvania Road, Near Latrobe.

The Number of Persons Killed estimated at Fifteen.

The Wreck Set on Fire by a Lime Bed a Some of the Unfortunate Victims Crumpled Alive—Three Freight Trains Crashed Together—Bodies of the Victims in the Debris—Returned Johnstown Laborers and Tramps on the Wrecked Trains—The Goldman Disaster—Fatal Pistol Play—Section Foreman Killed—Terrible Fall of a Miner—Casualties.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 26.—A triple collision of freight trains occurred near Latrobe, forty miles east of this city on the Pennsylvania Railroad about 2:30 o'clock this morning. Thirty cars were wrecked and seven persons killed, four of them unknown tramps. The hour named freight train No. 1 bound, left Latrobe and had just crossed a bridge, about fifty yards west, when it collided with an extra train, No. 1318, coming in the opposite direction. Another east-bound freight was stopped on the track, and the trains crashed against it, causing one engine and a number of cars to go over the embankment into the creek, a distance of twenty feet. Engineer Caldwell and his crew were supposed to have been killed instantaneously. Their bodies are still in the creek. Brake Miller was terribly crushed. He is still living, but will die. The bodies of four tramps were recovered from the creek. There was nothing about their clothes to identify them. They were stealing a ride and were coming West. The cause of the accident has not yet been learned. The loss to the railroad company will be very heavy.

CRUMPLED ALIVE.

A dispatch just received from Greensburg, nine miles from Latrobe, states that a party of about thirty-five workmen from Johnstown were stealing their way home on the freight train when the accident occurred. The wreck caught fire from a lime bed and the men were cremated. The story is not credited here and the Pennsylvania Railroad officials know nothing of it.

James Flannigan and a companion whose name could not be learned, were on board from the wreck to this city this afternoon. Flannigan was a returning Johnstown laborer. He says twelve persons were on the car with him at the time of the collision, but he could not say whether they escaped or not. Flannigan was seriously bruised. His companion was unconscious and it is thought fatally hurt.

LATER DETAILS.

The following dispatch has been received from Greensburg, Pa.:

The wreck at Latrobe this morning about 2 o'clock was terrible in the extreme. It is probable that thirty-five or forty lives are lost. Only four or five have yet been taken from the wreck. They were unknown and all were dead. Engineer Caldwell and his fireman are still under the wreck, and the chances are that their bodies will not be reached to-day. Thirty-one cars went down over the bridge and piled one upon the other in the water. The conductor of the freight train that in all probability thirty or forty men are still under the wreck, as he put off at Perry station about 12 m. ago, while coming from Johnstown. He states that when he went out, a great many of them got on board and that in that case it is more than likely that the killed will remain under the wrecks.

THE DERKES FIRED.

A car-load of lime in the center of the train was the last to go down, and exploded, scattering the debris around.

Then the debris took fire, and notwithstanding the efforts of the people to put out the flames, it was impossible. About ten of the victims can be seen protruding from the debris. No member of the crew remains to tell of those who went down. The killed are:

FRANCIS BREWER,
HUGH KELLY, Philadelphia.
Four unknown tramps were also taken from the wrecks.

The injured are:

JOHN BROWN,
JAMES CLAYTON, Pittsburgh.
JAMES FLANNAGAN, Pittsburgh.
JOHN HOWARD, Pittsburgh.
JOHN THOMAS, McKeesport.
T. T. MILLER, Pittsburgh.
LEWIS WIDNER, Marion, Indiana.

FIFTEEN KILLED.

Later dispatch states that more than half of those on the train were rescued and that the killed will not exceed twelve or fifteen persons.

PLAYED WITH AN OLD PISTOL.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 26.—News was received to-day from Eldon, a station in Miller County, on the Lebanon branch, of the accidental killing of a year-old boy, named Reed, by his 18-year-old brother. They were playing with an old pistol when the accidentally discharged it, hitting the abdomen of the younger brother, from which he died in a few hours. They were sons of a poor widow, who was absent from home washing for a neighbor.

The Goldman Wreck.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

JOPLIN, Mo., June 26.—After breakfast today a miner named Cannon fell down a shaft into twenty feet of water, having first been overcome by smoke. A Dr. Johnson, who is well known in the city, was sent for, and he said he knew nothing about the air or water killed him, nor is it yet ascertained whether he leaves a family or not at his neighbor's home in Joplin.

SECTION FOREMAN KILLED.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

WIS., June 26.—John Rath, section foreman of the Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad, was killed this morning at 5 o'clock, when he was working on the front door of the art-house in said city of St. Louis, prepared for the annual meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

FORER WINS EASILY.

PUBLICANS OF OHIO NOMINATE HIM FOR GOVERNOR.

The Supporters Capture the Convention and Give It to Sutliff—Unsuccessful Efforts of the Opposition to Stop Him—The Nomination Made on a Second Ballot.

COLUMBUS, O., June 26.—The second day of the Republican State Convention opened early, threatening a pour of rain. Many of the delegates remained up and about the respective headquarters of the delegates all night. Owing to the bad condition of the streets the crowds are gathering at the convention hall early. At 9:30 a.m. nearly all the state had been taken except those reserved for delegates. The indications are that not more than half the people will be able to gain admittance to the hall. There is apparently no change in the gubernatorial nomination at present. It is confidently believed that Gov. Foraker will be nominated on the first ballot, his friends say that they have the thing tied up for that result. The regular field candidates are holding out and announced that they will remain to the finish. They refuse to enter into any combination and think they have votes enough to prevent the nomination of Foraker. The third term idea is being extensively used against the Governor; he is now a candidate for the fourth nomination, having been elected twice. It is also urged against him that he cannot command the support of Sherman's followers; also that he has promised the other candidate that he would not be a candidate, and they have made their arrangements accordingly. It is believed that Gen. Dawes and Gen. Remond are in the lead of strength among the opposition candidates. The programme of the Foraker men is to place E. L. Lampson of Ashtabula on the ticket for Lieutenant-Governor.

CALLED TO ORDER.

The convention was called to order at 10:15 a.m. promptly, with the confusion prevailing over in what set the delegates apart, demonstration of the morning was McKinley entered the hall.

After a formal prayer the and Morton Glee Club, which did silent service in the last campaign, making some of the hits on several candidates before the convention.

Enthusiastic delegates kept the club singing until they were exhausted. The report of the Committee on Credentials was that there were no contests. The report on rates and other business coming up was agreed to at five minutes and seconds past three minutes; that a majority of all the votes shall be required to nominate, and on a motion of Senator Kerr of Mansfield to adjourn till the call of the committee is completed. It is understood this latter rule will be followed. The public will be given time to nominate the candidates, who will be expected to nominate themselves at the conclusion of the first ballot.

The temporary organization of the convention was made perfectly by Gen. C. H. Grosvenor, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, read the report which was furnished for the purpose. The report was signed by the whole committee and the reading was received with much applause. The platform was unanimously adopted.

NOMINATIONS FOR GOVERNOR.

Many of the delegates raised objections over the fact that these seats had been appropriated to the governors of other states consumed in an effort to clear the way for the nomination of the convention president. Senator Kerr of Mansfield took the stage and offered the name of E. L. Lampson of Ashtabula for the nomination. Col. Ben Nevins of Marion seconded the nomination. After a speech, placing the name of Congressman E. L. Morey. His speech was a scathing arraignment of the Foraker men, the Malini Van and eulogistic of his candidate.

FORAKER STRONG.

The call of the roll of counties for the presentation of credentials was suspended until the limit of time on speeches appears to be the only thing which will prevent the convening of the nominating session.

In addition to the nominating speech of each candidate is favored with three or four rounds, of whom take the full time allotted them. The speakers, eloquent speeches being made. Besides those mentioned above the following names have been offered: Col. J. B. White, Capt. Wilson, Vance of Hancock County, Gen. Robert P. Kennedy of Logan County, and Gen. Asa Jones of Mahoning County.

The Fullman Powers Safe.

By Telegraph to the Post-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, June 26.—Sup. Billings of the Fullman Palace Car Co. yesterday denied a rumor that on July 15 colored porters on all of the company's routes would be replaced by white men and the system of tipping would be discontinued. He said that he had been recently containing an article to the effect that the company had agents in England securing substitutes for colored men. The Fullman had a meeting of Chinese porters a week ago and nothing to do with the subject was proposed or discussed. Mr. Billings declared himself in favor of colored men for car porters.

Commissioner Rich Resigns.

DENVER, Colo., June 26.—Commissioner Rich of the Western Colorado and Southwestern Railway Associations has tendered his resignation to take effect July 1. His successor has not been decided upon.

NOW THE PLAGUE.

Many Cases of Typhoid Fever at Johnstown—The Portable Houses.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 26.—Acting Surgeon Forster of the Fourteenth Regiment and laboring camps reported this morning that within the last twenty-four hours forty-nine laborers were taken seriously sick with symptoms of typhoid fever. The local physicians, many of them sufferers by the flood, have determined to not formally present the names of the victims, but will give the names to "Vote for him when the roll is called." Their estimate is that Foraker will receive about 800 votes on the first ballot.

The opposition think they have a surprise in store for the Foraker men. There are 200 votes in the convention, and 40 will be necessary for a choice.

GREAT CONFUSION.

All the call of the roll of nominations for Governor was suspended until the limit of time in great confusion. Adams County, the first on the list, refused to cast her vote unless the delegates were furnished seats in the convention. All were accommodated to vote. The first two counties showed clearly that they had no objection to Foraker. The Foraker sentiment in the convention, as the call proceeds, is strong and enthusiastic. The indications are that the regular candidates are discharged. When the nomination is made it will be made on the second ballot. Outside of the convention dates before the convention and Gov. Foraker, Gen. W. H. Gibson had received twenty-three votes by the time half of the counties were called.

NO SURPRISE.

The reports sent out regarding dissatisfaction over the Chicago portable houses are confirmed by the authorities here. The portable houses are not entirely satisfactory to those residing in them. The Coroner's inquest on the body of Mrs. White will be re-enacted at 10 o'clock this evening. Expert witnesses will be called and examined.

Illinois Sons of Veterans Encampment.

By Telegraph to the Post-DISPATCH.

OLNEY, Ill., June 26.—The seventh annual encampment of the Sons of Veterans of Illinois met in this city yesterday and will continue all week. Delegates from all parts of the State and from the various countries abroad on the grounds. Considerable interest is centered on the election of State Colonel. Captain George B. Stiles of Springfield, and Col. John Lynch, Jr., of the city are candidates. The boys are having a good time.

The Façade War in Texas.

AUSTIN, Tex., June 26.—The Governor up to noon had received no information from Fort Bend and Wharton Counties and is supposed all is quiet. The Sheriff of Bastrop County notified the Adjutant-General this morning that the military, who have been guarding the negroes and protecting them from mob law, are no longer needed, and they have been ordered home.

Sawmill Burned.

WISCONSIN, June 26.—A Butterfield

Postmaster.

At the conclusion of the ballot an effort was made to take a recess, but this was howled down by the Foraker delegates and Gen. Kennedy had quite a number of accusations before the regular candidates were allowed. This was the point at which the friends of Foraker had set to do the work. The delegates were all on their feet and opposed to the regular candidates. The changes were fully begun and Adams, Ross, Lucas and others came to the front. The regular candidates were not recognized the counties which wished to change to Foraker. Everything was suspended.

FORAKER RESUMES.

It was known before the convention concluded that Foraker had gained probably less than thirty over the first ballot. While the additions were being made, Adams, Ross, Lucas, and others came to the front. The regular candidates were not recognized the counties which wished to change to Foraker. The changes were fully begun and Adams, Ross, Lucas and others came to the front. The regular candidates were not recognized the counties which wished to change to Foraker. Everything

JUDGE SEAY, THE BOSS.

ANXIOUS MISSOURIANS KNOCKING AT THE DOORS OF THE DEPARTMENTS.

The Leaders of the Colony Go on Another Tour for Office—Wm. Walter Phelps Appointed Minister to Germany—The Fruit Distillers—A Colored Delegation at the White House.

By Telegraph to the Post-DISPATCH.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 26.—The colony of Missourians here has dwindled down to a small party and the enthusiasm which characterized them about a month ago has about departed. Nothing has yet been done for them and their last hopes are centered on the beginning of the next fiscal year, June 1, at which time it has been the custom to make general changes in the departments, but the heads of the several bureaus give out no words of promise, which only makes the situation more aggravating. A. M. Gilligan, Director of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, died of convulsions, without medical attendance this morning and the Coroner returned a verdict to that effect.

SOMMER, SCOTT, a 50-year-old colored man living at 2211 North Nineteenth street, early this morning, cut and cut his hands in a lock yesterday afternoon. Coroner Frank returned a verdict of death from apoplexy.

THE 7-month-old male child of Frank D. Ingalls, a 25-year-old colored man, died of pneumonia, when he was 10 days old. The mother, Mrs. Ingalls, is an anti-prohibitionist, the expression of his views over his own signature will have a great deal of weight, as he is consistent and a strong temperance man, and has always expressed his views very plainly in his party councils. But, while Senator Ingalls is an anti-prohibitionist, the expression of his views over his own signature will have a great deal of weight, as he is consistent and a strong temperance man, and has always expressed his views very plainly in his party councils.

THE TIN-HORSE MEN

They Are Determined to Have Their Gambling Tools Frenzied by the Police.

Remarkable Posse Summoned by a Constable to Attack the Four Courts.

Sheriff Fohlman, City Counsellor Bell, Recorder Hobbs, Marshal Neiser, Collector Ziegenhein and Others Called Upon to Get Their Weapons, March to the Four Courts and Carry Away the Tin Horses—An Urgent Letter From the Gamblers' Attorneys Calling for an Immediate Attack—The Disastrous Result of a Fire Attempt Does Not Discourage Constable Peterson—Sergeant Joyce as a Wrestler—Vice-President Overall's Brief but Lucid Order to Chief Huebler.

The tin-horse gamblers want their tin-horse wheels. It will be remembered that in accordance with the determined policy of action agreed upon by the Police Board and prominent police officials all of these nefarious games were raided on Saturday night last, the proprietors and owners consigned to quarters in the hold-over of the Central District Station house, the wheels of fortune, some thirty in number, piled in racks, confined in the drill and assembly room of the same station. The prisoners were afterwards released on heavy bonds, and on Monday morning warrants were sworn out, charging them with a felony in keeping a gambling-house. A number of the craft were still defiant. Undismayed at the action of the Grand-jury in indicting their colleagues, Singleton D. Cave and Wm. Montague, and emboldened at the success which had attended the efforts of those noted worthies in recovering possession of the confiscated gambling outfit, ten of the tin-horse fiends late yesterday afternoon went before Justice Spalding, who at once issued a writ of replevin in each case demanding that Chief of Police Anton Huebler and Captain of Police Peter Joyce deliver over to their possession the wheels alighted to. These writs were placed in the hands of Constable Peterson, who, accompanied by his wife, Hyde, proceeded to the Four Courts shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon and entered the office of the Central Police Station. Chief Huebler and Capt. Joyce were both at hand and listened respectfully to the Constable as he read the papers.

"And I also wish to depose that Captain Michael Whalen to remain in charge of the property until it can be removed," continued Peterson, who then read the article deplored Whalen to that duty.

A SURPRISING CONSTABLE.
"But you can't have the wheels," interposed Chief Huebler smilingly. "I can't have them."

"I can't have them," ejaculated Peterson, in a surprised tone of voice. "Don't you see that I have the authority to take possession at once?"

"But you can't have the wheels," insisted the Chief. "What is more, you won't be entitled to them from Officer Whalen or any other officer in charge."

Turning to Capt. Joyce at the juncture the chief constable said: "We have the wheels, but we can't have them." The words, which resulted in four stalwart blue coats emerging from the office. These men at once placed a heavy wooden bench across the entrance, and, having closed the doors and seated themselves at the corners, each man with his drawn billy. Orders were given to the constables to remain in the guard-room until the chief had a permit from the chief. The constable and his deputy, Mr. Hyde, seeing that the men meant to stay that night, turned to the chief and said: "We'll be back in the morning." Whalen, however, with the mistaken idea of his duty in the matter, and without consulting many of his subordinates, had many plans for the obstruction with the evident intention of leaping the barricade and taking possession of the property in a legal manner. Capt. Joyce, however, was not so easily satisfied. Catching the infuriated guard by the throat, he literally lifted him from the floor. Two new scenes followed. First, the guard fell on his head on the cold stone pavement, while the athletic Captain coolly sauntered back to his office and remained there until morning. When he did not return, picking himself up from the sidewalk he hurried down the street without a word. The reserve squad was then ordered out and remained on duty in the guard-room all last night ready to repel a similar invasion in case the Constable and his enthusiastic deputies had not returned. Nothing more was seen of them, and at 11 o'clock this morning the guard was removed.

CAPT. JOYCE,
when seen this morning, said: "I had no jurisdiction in the matter. I was ordered by my superior officer to retain possession of all property stored in the safe room of my headquarters, and I did as I was directed."

CHIEF HUEBLER.
In answer to the question as to why he had refused to surrender the wheels upon a writ of replevin when the faro lay-out had been regained by Cave and Montague through the efforts of the police, he said: "We had raided the faro banks we had no warrant. When we raided the tin horses, we had. Vice-President Overall gave me a specific warrant in each case authorizing me to proceed to the designated place and seize the property thereat. I did not make particular reference to Capt. Joyce. He laid the cases before the Court of Criminal Correction, and there his responsibility was clearly defined."

"Then you hold that a writ of replevin is of no avail in cases where a warrant has been issued for the seizure of the property?"

He said: "Yes, and that I shall continue to hold until I am in receipt of an order from the Court of Criminal Correction authorizing me to do it over to Capt. Joyce. My course of action is now to have him do it if he can. I will not be responsible for me in this matter, and I could not surcharge the goods even if I so desired."

CAPT. JOYCE,
the man in which Constable Peterson was received by the police, only make the tin-horse gamblers the more determined in their efforts to keep the wheels. They accordingly addressed a letter to the constable in which they demanded that the writ be forthwith served and that the property be delivered to them. They added in the letter that in the execution of these writings the revised statutes gave him the right to have done what he pleased with the property and announcement of his official character they were not opened. In the execution of the writs, the letter goes on, the inhabitants of St. Louis above the age of 21 years and that it is an offense punishable by imprisonment to refuse to obey the summons. Any person who obstructs and assaults him or his deputies in the execution of the writs does not commit a criminal offense, but so the attorneys state, the Constable and his men have the right to restrain such assault as may be necessary. Speaking of such extreme steps as necessary, speaking of the defendants, the police, the letter says: "It is not for them to pass the limit of their power in this case. They are not higher than the law and every one of them, high or low in public function, who sits here, is bound to obey the law, and to determine for him whether the rights of citizens shall be served to openly violate such rights will offend the public conscience and the sense of its own importance." The letter concludes with this sentence: "The following is issued from Justice Spalding's office, Greeting:

Id. et al. vs. Anton Huebler
Id. John H. Overall—Before the Seventh District, City of St. Louis—Bentonville, No. 184 to 192 inclusive. In the suit for replevin for property now in possession of defendants, said writs issued by James J. Spalding, Justice of the Peace, within and for the State of Missouri, District of St. Louis, Mo., and to me directed as Constable of said District. And now in compliance with the laws of this State, I, the undersigned, am hereby summoned to my aid to assist in executing said writs, my force being inadequate for the purpose, having been repelled by the defendants, having been repelled and others under their official command, and that you be and appear at my office, 1105 Olive street, in said city, on the 26th day of June next, at 10 a.m., this June 26, A. D. 1890, whereof you will not fail at your peril. To witness, Martin H. Bell, City Marshal; James J. Butler, Andrew Haley, Henry Thomas, Joseph A. Wherry, and others. H. Hobbs.

HENRY PETERSON, Constable. Constable Henry A. Peterson immediately set about summoning the men named in the document and expect to have all these exalted city officials carrying tin-horse wheels about the city. John H. Fohlman is Sheriff of the city; Martin Neiser, City Marshal; Emilie Thomas is City Marshal; but whose election is being contested by the Republicans. John H. Overall is City Attorney; Leverett Bell, City Counselor; Andrew Haley, Inspector of Police; James J. Butler, Andrew Haley, contractor of dead animals, and is now Chairman of the Republican City Central Committee; Henry Ziegenhein is City Collector; Joseph A. Wherry, City Register, Wm. A. Hobbs is Recorder of Deeds.

AN ORDER IS AN ORDER.
The man who has chosen to do when he gets to the Four Courts as the following story will show: When Chief Huebler learned that the tin-horse gamblers intended to bring into the city a large group of men to burn down John H. Overall, the Vice-President of the board, and asked him if he should surrender the wheels when the constables demanded them. On the day the man was committed McDowell drove with her to a house in the suburbs and wanted her to enter, but she refused. McDowell wanted to marry her, promising to get a divorce in North Carolina. McDowell told her he had married his wife for money, she was tired of her. He sent her poetry and flowers and made her a present of a watch. On cross-examination he attempted to confuse the witness failed. She neither loved nor hated McDowell. During their acquaintance he kissed her twice. The defendant had a photograph of her. She did not give it to him, but merely showed it. He kept it. She had never said anything to Capt. Dawson or his family about this affair with McDowell.

He Loses His Self-Possession and Gives Evasive Answers to All Questions—The Killing and Attempt to Burn Dawson's Body Admitted—A Plea of Self-Defense—The French Governess' Story.

CHARLESTON, S. C., June 29.—The chief witness in the McDowell trial yesterday was Marie Burdeyron, the French governess of Capt. Dawson's children. It was in defense of her honor that Dawson lost his life. The witness, a handsome blonde of 22 years, ladylike in manners and perfectly self-possessed, testified as to the murderer's attentions to her, his gifts and their clandestine meetings. After becoming acquainted with McDowell in February last, she met him almost daily up to and on the day of the killing, sometimes at the door of the编辑's home.

"THE letter that never came"—that one containing a draft for Chicago's contribution to the Johnstown sufferers.

There is frequent mention of the equities of Cabinet officers, but CLARKSON's troubous are watched with more interest than any others in Washington.

Gov. FRANCIS exemplifies the immense influence there is between a plain option-dealer and an energetic politician who has made a fortune at option-dealing.

The exclamation "St. Louis men to the front!" in the famous Francis advertisement of last November was evidently a misprint. It should have been "St. Louis men to the jail."

CANDIDATE FRANCIS was recommended to St. Louisans as a man who had "served well the city." This recommendation, however, does not apply to Gov. FRANCIS. Perhaps it was because the city failed to reciprocate.

THE St. Joseph Herald is liberal enough to promise that "when a Missouri Republican is appointed to any important office under the National Administration, the fact shall be duly recorded in the columns of the Herald."

UNDER the rule of Mikado FRANCIS stock and grain brokers have been reduced to the rank of plain criminals. It is even possible that in his zeal to crush the monstrous evil of option-dealing the option-dealer may compel them to wear striped uniforms.

"PEOPLE of St. Louis, reflect!" was one of the big lines which appeared in the Francis election advertisement. The members of the Merchants' Exchange are indulging in a great deal of reflection just now, and mighty little sweet trickles through the bitter of it.

CHANDLER's denial of the statement that BLACKBURN pulled his car still looks the support of Senator CULLOM's testimony. On the other hand Senator FAULKNER solemnly avers that BLACKBURN did twist CHANDLER's ear. Unless the other eye-witness, Senator CULLOM, helps the New Hampshire Statemen out of the scrape his reputation for veracity at least will be badly twisted.

SATURDAY VEST has done some small things and made some big mistakes. But his equal in ability or his superior in honest loyalty to the principles of his party has not yet been found in the ranks of Missouri Democracy. Something more than influence bought with Coal Oil Inspectors or the coal oil money of BRICE and WHITNEY will be required to elect Gov. FRANCIS as VEST's successor in the Senate.

ONE views with shuddering incredulity the records of murderous cruelty made by the RICHARDS and BORGES of history. But two cases of calculating villainy, cruel and heartless beyond expression, were brought into prominence yesterday. One was the case of Mrs. WHITELING of Delaplaine, who was hanged for poisonbrutally eight members of his own family and a guest at his home. The motive in both cases was the possession of a few dollars.

MR. PHELPS' reward quickly followed his success at the Samoan conference. He carried the treaty to Mr. BLAINE yesterday and carried away his appointment as Minister to Germany. Mr. BLAINE and the President are evidently satisfied with the result of the conference, and there is little doubt that the country will be satisfied with the selection of Mr. PHELPS for the German mission.

THE Mayor has acted wisely in forbidding the use of firearms on the Fourth. The rigid enforcement of his order will prevent the many shocking accidents, often resulting in loss of life, arising from the careless use of guns and pistols. Those foolish persons who think that patriotism should find expression through noisy explosives can "let off" their feelings with comparatively harmless fireworks.

A REPUBLICAN paper says that "if the South does not rise to the occasion and suppress her Earlys, Lees and Rossers there is no knowing what new woes she may suffer." The North, however, is better provided with fool-killers than the South, and so long as the Tutties, Fairchilds and Forakers are permitted to howl like nocturnal wolves in one section it is neither surprising nor alarming that they awaken responsive echoes from similar animals in the other.

THE ADVANCE ELEVATOR

is not in the consolidation, though it stands on the threshold. Mr. Charles Isaacs, its president, is still negotiating with the other managers, and it is said by some that the Advance will surely go in though it has held out after all the others had consented to the consolidation. They disagreed concerning the value of the elevator and the standing it was to have in the new company. The Advance wanted to be rated higher than it was and the others would not consent to increase its valuation. Then Mr. Isaacs withdrew from the confederacy, but the other managers have been working on him. They have told him that the Advance could not live alone if all the others united, that it could not continue to make money at its present rate of expenses after the consolidated elevators reduced their expenses and their charges, and that the consolidated elevators, with the capital they have, could afford to put charges down to a mere nominal sum if necessary to force the Advance to join them. On the other hand Mr. Isaacs was told how, if he remained in the confederacy, the value of the property would be assured and the profits of the stockholders would be increased. Mr. Isaacs, they say, has almost given up his right to join the confederacy and that the property of the Advance will be sold to the new company when the other is.

THE ARTIFICIAL STOCK

of the new combination will be $3,000,000, paid up. It will own outright all the elevators and hold the titles to the property. The valuation of the property will be $1,000,000.

They say they do not care to give it out yet, but they say that it is about the same value.

The value of the property will be assured by the Post-DISPATCH. The following figures, which are taken from the Post-DISPATCH of April 28, will therefore give a fair idea of the relative standing of the cost of the elevators in the new company.

Central A. & B. $290,000 Merchants $345,000

Advantage 225,000 Venetian 225,000

Union 45,000 East St. Louis 250,000

Advantage 250,000 Total 1,000,000

On this basis they will be bought and the present stockholders will receive for their share stock in the new company to the full amount of their respective old stock in the present companies, which will go out of existence.

THE OFFICERS

of the new combination have not yet been selected. Three of them are sure. Webb M. Samuel will be president and general manager, B. F. Patch will be vice-president and Charles C. Patch will be assistant secretary.

It is probable that the first board of directors will consist of the present presidents of the various companies.

Mr. Isaacs, who is the general superintendent and assistants, or whether to divide the elevators into groups and appoint three class managers, is the question.

THE MANAGEMENT

of the elevators, as it will be conducted under the new company, has already been outlined in the Post-DISPATCH. There will be an entire change in the method of doing business. The speculative feature will be dropped and the elevators will be used more to advantage with teams. They may buy grain in the country still, but if they do they will stand on the same plane with the commission men, who will be giving the grain to the railroads for the railroads to give to the elevators advantages which the commission men do not receive. They will have legitimate warehouses and grain yards, with the legitimate grain yards to any, though it is understood that fears will have one of the places, and if they only have one superintendent Fear will be the man.

SULLIVAN AND KILRAIN.

WHAT LOCAL SPORTS THINK OF THEIR COMING BATTLE.

Opinions Divided as to Who Will Win.—The men as Pugilists View Themselves—Sullivan the Favorite in the Betting—St. Louisans Who Will Witness the Fight.

LARGE delegation of St. Louis sports, among them Tom Allen, the ex-champion of the world; Fred Watkins, his old backer; Tom Kelly, the ex-champion middleweight; and D. A. Daly, middleweight champion of the State, will leave here about a week from Saturday to attend the Sullivan-Kilrain mill. There has been considerable betting done here on the fight, but it has all been private, none of the pool-rooms selling on it. Sullivan is the popular public favorite and has the call in the betting. In most instances where money has been put up the backers have given odds on their man, and some bets have been made where the odds have been extremely large. Sullivan enthusiasts have also made wagers on the number of rounds it will take him to knock out Kilrain and in some of these bets the champion will have to knock out his admirers. Among those who are posted on ring matters there is a difference of opinion as to who will win the battle.

TOM KELLY, who seconded Paddy Ryan when the latter fought Sullivan at Mississippi City, remarked to a Post-Dispatch representative: "As I have never seen Kilrain fight, I do not like to express an opinion of how this will result. Sullivan is the choice among the people generally, who think he will have an easy time winning. Well, now, I don't think he will have any walk-over. The thinking men do not believe there is any such for him in this fight. There has been some betting done here on the battle. I hold one stake of $500 a side. I also hold a number of small wagers and in most of these odds have been given on Sullivan. In some instances the odds are high as to Sullivan, and in others as low as $10 to $5. When Paddy Ryan fought Sullivan he was in no condition for a fight, and in any condition was no man to fight Sullivan. I have no way of judging what Kilrain can do except by his fight with Jim Smith. Taking it that the fight was on the square, he must be a good one, for Smith is the acknowledged champion of England and, but for the darkness coming on, Kilrain would have won. I think the odds on Kilrain are not so good as on Sullivan, but that Kilrain and there are none of them any more clever than the big fellow. This talk about him merely possessing brute strength is absurd. He is a good fighter, and has a rush which none of them have. Mind you, I don't think that he will whip Kilrain in a pin, but I think he will get five rounds to settle the fight. One thing in Kilrain's favor is his seconds, Charley Mitchell and Mike Donovan. Both are very strong fighters and certainly the best in the world. It's likely he'll have a hard fight. That is the only opinion I will venture."

DAN DALY said: "I am a fan and win easily. I tell you the big fellow is a wonder and when he is in condition none of these fighters have any show with him and I think we will be disappointed. I am a fan and will put on him all the money I can raise. In my opinion Kilrain has no chance to win. I shall attend the fight."

SAD CHARLEY DAILY: "If that fight comes off Sullivan will win. If the big fellow is in condition he will stand up to Sullivan and fight there is not a pugilist in the world who stands any chance against him. When he is in condition he is the only man who can possibly whip him. He is a big, impudent fellow, and though he may be a good fighter, he has a rush which none of them have. Mind you, I don't think that he will whip Kilrain in a pin, but I think he will get five rounds to settle the fight. One thing in Kilrain's favor is his seconds, Charley Mitchell and Mike Donovan. Both are very strong fighters and certainly the best in the world. It's likely he'll have a hard fight. That is the only opinion I will venture."

ARKANSAS ATOMS.

Drowning of the Emerson Family—Railway Accident.

LITTLE ROCK, June 26.—The story of H. C. Emerson concerning the drowning of his family on the Little Red River a few days ago, has just been obtained. He said that during a severe storm he found the river rising rapidly and fearing that the flood would reach the house he started with his wife and seven children for a hill near by, but before he could reach it his wife and seven children were drowned. His wife, Mrs. Emerson, and her backers, rather than take any chances on losing their money, will see that the fight does not go off. The two men are equally strong and though Kilrain and there are none of them any more clever than the big fellow. This talk about him merely possessing brute strength is absurd. He is a good fighter, and has a rush which none of them have. Mind you, I don't think that he will whip Kilrain in a pin, but I think he will get five rounds to settle the fight. One thing in Kilrain's favor is his seconds, Charley Mitchell and Mike Donovan. Both are very strong fighters and certainly the best in the world. It's likely he'll have a hard fight. That is the only opinion I will venture."

BOW FARNELL, the light-weight, who traveled in Sullivan's camp, said: "If a man will stand up to Sullivan and fight there is not a pugilist in the world who stands any chance against him. When he is in condition he is the only man who can possibly whip him. He is a big, impudent fellow, and though he may be a good fighter, he has a rush which none of them have. THEOLOGY AND MEDICINE.

A mixture of the Two at the Americas Institute of Homoeopathy.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 26.—There was more theology than medicine at the late afternoon meeting yesterday, and for an hour or two several learned men wrestled over a question which one of the physicians said was simply "trying to settle who God is." It was the section of psychological medicine, and some papers had been read on the agents for the creation and development of the will. The discussion was the occasion of the day. At the late evening session, the section of materia medica and general therapeutics was to be opened by Dr. W. W. Wadsworth; Dr. J. C. Morgan, Pennsylvania; Dr. E. H. Chicago; Dr. F. B. Perrin, Brooklyn; Dr. H. H. Smith of Boston. The illustrated paper on "The Brahma Axis" in Structure, Friend and Connection, by Dr. T. G. Condon of New York, was then delivered, followed by a lecture on the section of anatomy, physiology and pathology. This ended the work of the day, the day of the annual meeting of the Americas Institute of Homoeopathy. The arrivals yesterday have brought the attendance well up into the thousands.

ILLINOIS ITEMS.

A Train Runs Into a Drove of Cattle—Horrible Suicide.

TAYLORVILLE, June 26.—An east-bound passenger train on the Wabash ran into a drove of cattle belonging to W. T. Hewitt, injuring fourteen of them so badly that they had to be shot.

MONTMOURT, June 26.—John Malley, 84 years of age, was this morning found in front of a freight train with suicidal intent, but was saved by a train driver. An hour later he tried the same thing with an express train and was ground death under the wheels.

Amusements.

There was a large crowd at Lexington Garden last night at a musical comedy concert. The new program is on now and it is running smoothly and making lots of fun for the crowds. The garden was nearly filled last night and the audience was enthusiastic over the company and the performance.

The new Farce was a great success, and the large audience attended the first performance. The pretty songs were encored repeatedly and the quintette in the second act was a great hit.

John Kilrain is in town and is a great favorite with the public.

He is a great fighter and I do not think he will prove Kilrain's equal. The latter is a great fighter, as his meeting with Smith clearly shows.

HANK WIDER.

"I am going to see Tom Allen and Tom Kelly, and I shall back Kilrain. I think he will win because he knows much more about the London prize-fight rules than Sullivan does. I am a fan and will support Kilrain, who in which place I have just returned, I found everybody Sullivan, but that does not change my mind. Kilrain is a good fighter, and not a fighter."

HUGH M'MANUS.

"I think Kilrain will win and have placed some money on him. Hugh McManus, the middle-weight.

"The odds are 6 to 5 in Sullivan's favor, but the betting is not so high as I expected. The judgment of the men, Sullivan is not the man he used to be, and it is questionable whether he ever was the man Kilrain is. Kilrain is a big, stubborn fellow whom no one can make train, and he will not be able to stay. Of course, he may get in a chance blow and knock Kilrain down, but I do not think he will win. I shall certainly expect him to win."

JOHN ALLEN.

"I think Kilrain will win easily. I tell you the big fellow is a wonder and when he is in condition none of these fighters have any show with him and I think we will be disappointed. I am a fan and will put on him all the money I can raise. In my opinion Kilrain has no chance to win. I shall attend the fight."

LOSING THEIR POWER.

Red Bull and Siting Bull Have Only Old Bucks as Their Followers.

The efforts of the Government to divide the Sioux Indian lands in Dakota up to severely and throw 11,000,000 of the 32,000,000 acres open to settlement is reaching a point where they are becoming very interesting. "If the Government would consent," said Mr. Robert Flormann of Rapid City, Dak., to-day, to a POST-DISPATCH reporter, "to throw the $2,000 of the Sioux Indians to the United States army, while they were on the war-path, into the control of Red Cloud and Dr. Bland, the President of the Indians' Dr. Bland, the President of the Indians' Association, the world would find no trouble.

The Indians are quite as sharp as the white people, and if anything more adventurous comes along, they will have their hands in several pockets. The Commissioners will have less trouble. The glory of Siting Bull is in the past and he has few followers now.

At Indianapolis yesterday, the score standing 8 to 7. Seven was batted away and Quinn was the Baltimore batter. Baldwin and Quinn were the Baltimore batters. Baldwin, 5; Athletic, 10. Errors—Baltimore, 2; Browns, 7. Errors—Browns, 2; Cincinnati, 1.

A Board of Trade Suit.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 26.—Charles S. Lee or the Merchants' Exchange in Kansas City, and also member of the Chicago Board of Trade, secured a temporary injunction restraining the Board of Directors of the Chicago Board from holding its trials at 8:30 yesterday afternoon, when the trial for the telephone company was to have been held.

Mr. Lee stated in his affidavit that having learned that the ticker was to be removed from the telephone, he had March second a injunction against the telephone company preventing this action. He claims that the present move has the same object in view, prevent quotations, and alleges that there is a conspiracy between the board and the telephone company to injure him financially.
